The Inbound-Outbound Assessment Approach

- Students complete an inbound exam early in the program and then an outbound exam toward the end of the program. The comparison of inbound and outbound exam scores is the direct measure of learning.
- A detailed analysis of the exam results is used for evaluating learning outcomes. The comparison of the cumulative results with other institutions is used for academic benchmarking.
- If your student body demographics have not changed significantly, inbound and outbound exams can be administered concurrently for statistically valid comparisons.

Pairwise Report

The Pairwise Report is used when the institution administers both inbound and outbound exams.

When the student completes the outbound exam, his/her score can be paired with the inbound exam result.

Internal Analysis Report

A report of a selected group of exams with the selection of one aggregate pool at a time with both an analysis of means and an analysis of the frequency correct.

School results are compared at the topic and subject levels based on percent scores and percentile rankings to determine if student performance is below, at, or above desired thresholds established by the school.

Longitudinal Report

The Longitudinal Report is used to analyze 2-4 sets of results over time.

Regression analysis helps school officials understand the effect of changes to the program over time.

External Comparison Report

A report of a selected group of exams comparing the results against one or more aggregate pools.

Choose from up to 5 different aggregate pools to compare against the school's results for external benchmarking.

Program or Cohort Report

A side-by-side comparison of the results between one or more academic programs or cohorts of students where there is overlap of topics on the student exams.

New Gap Analysis Report

A report that identifies potential learning gaps. The report combines elements from the Longitudinal Report, the Internal Analysis Report, and the Response Distractors Report.

Student Survey Report

School officials have the option to include a survey with an exam (at no additional cost).

Typically, this is an end-of-program survey, often used as an indirect measure of learning outcomes and student satisfaction. The institution determines the survey questions.

Grade Scale Report

Once an institution has completed an appropriate number of exams (>50), the school has the option to generate a Grade Scale Report based on the school's results.

This report is used most often for grading the exam.

Test Bank Validity and Reliability

Exam questions are aligned with the knowledge areas and have been validated and peer reviewed.

Regular psychometric analyses of the test banks ensure reliability and accuracy.

Exam difficulty is relative; the exam assesses retained knowledge of the students at the program level using a nationally normed instrument.

Principal measures of reliability are:

- 1. Item Difficulty
- 2. Item Discrimination
- 3. Question Interchangeability

Incentivizing Your Exam

- Outbound exams are usually incentivized (graded) to encourage the students to do their best.
- The Learner Assessment Report also incentives learners to give their best effort.
- The report
  - illustrates the "why" of the exam.
  - demonstrates growth in knowledge over time.
  - provides a tool for learner's professional portfolio.

The Report "Why"

Explanation of Scores

The graph below will help you understand how your score(s) relates to the average scores achieved on the exam. For example, your total exams score of 55% corresponds to a percentile rank of 75, as illustrated in the following graph. You can also apply this relationship to your topic and subject level. The key within the graph represents three different points at which you may have taken the exam. Indoor refers to an exam taken at the beginning of an academic program. Midpoint is an exam taken at the earn of the program. Outbound is an exam taken at the end off the program.

Percentiles should not be confused with percentages. For example, a learner taking a difficult exam might earn a score of 75%. This means that they correctly answered every three out of four questions.

A learner who scores in the 75th percentile, however, has obtained a different result. This percentile means that the learner earned a higher score than 75% of all other learners in the sample who took the exam. In other words, the percentage score reflects how well the learner did on the exam itself; the percentile ratic reflects how well the learner did no comparison to other learners. understanding of your exam results. 1) A # of Correct Responses of 8/10 means that 8 questions out of 10 were answered correctly

2) A Score of 80% is based on 8 questions answered correctly divided by the total questions offered of 10

3) A Percentile Rank of 75th means that you earned a higher score than 75% of the other learners in the sample.

4) The Sample Size is the number of learners who received that topic and upon which the Percentile Rank is calculated. For example, a percentile rank of 75th means that you scored at or higher than 75% of all learners who took this same exam.
